

ASCEPT Early Achievement Award for Women

This award, to be presented at the ASCEPT–APFP-APSA 2024 Joint Congress, is to be made to a woman within five years of the award of her PhD, or longer if combined with periods of significant career interruption, for significant achievement in research and scholarship in pharmacology or toxicology.

Rationale for the award: The award is to recognise the early achievement of women pharmacologists and toxicologists, and to assist ASCEPT to achieve gender equality in ASCEPT's senior awards and office bearers.

Eligibility: Applicants for the award must have been members of ASCEPT for at least 2 years and can be involved in any aspect of pharmacology or toxicology, either basic or clinical.

Application Process: To apply for this award, applicants must submit an abstract for a presentation at the ASCEPT–APFP-APSA 2024 Joint Congress. In addition to submitting a standard abstract, applicants must submit an Application Package at the same time as abstract submission.

This application package should include a Curriculum Vitae, a copy of the submitted abstract and a 1000 word description of their achievements, justifying the receipt of the award and how the award would benefit their future career in pharmacology or toxicology. Abstract submission deadline is close of business, Friday 31 May 2024.

All applications will be judged by a panel nominated by the ASCEPT Board that will be assembled in accordance with ASCEPT's Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Policy. The successful applicant will be invited to present at the ASCEPT–APFP-APSA 2024 Joint Congress. Other applicants will be allocated a poster or oral presentation as decided by the Scientific Advisory Committee.

Prize: The recipient will receive a plaque to be presented at the ASCEPT–APFP-APSA 2024 Joint Congress as well as $1000 paid directly to the recipient.

Secretariat: Suite 11, 137–143 Racecourse Road, Ascot Queensland, Australia 4007
